For Sale

Two Manual and Pedal Tracker Practice Organ, private residence
Bradford Organ Company, Evanston, Illinois, Opus 7, 1990

Price Negotiable; Buyer to Remove.

Lower Manual 8’ Gedackt*
Upper Manual 8’ Röhrflute*
Pedal 8’ Wooden Gedackt
*lower 12 manual pipes shared
All three ranks and lights for music desk and pedalboard on with blower.
Manuals 61 notes (C-c^4);
Standard AGO concave radiating pedalboard (C-g^1)
Mechanical action/balanced type
Keyboards rosewood, sharps topped with bone.

H 12’4”
W 6’7”
D 4’ 2’’, and lower manual keyboard extends an additional 1’2” from front of case; pedalboard extends an additional 2’10” from front of case.

Solid walnut case with oak music desk
Adjustable bench (dowel rods-several positions) plus three sets of walnut blocks of different heights.
Case doors, upper and lower, on both sides and back for ease of access.
Music storage racks inside lower back doors of case.

The organ is suitable for home practice or a school practice studio; it might also be suitable for a chapel, especially with the addition of a 4' rank. [According to the builder, there is space inside the case for addition of a 4' rank, and possibly another higher pitched rank.] The flutes have a gentle, clear sound with distinction between ranks.

The organ is located in Lynchburg, Virginia. The owner is reluctantly selling this instrument due to a planned down-sizing retirement move to another city.

Contact Seller: Ann Eutsler Coulter, retired organist/choirmaster, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Lynchburg, and retired Instructor in Organ and Music Theory and College Organist, Randolph-Macon Woman's College, now Randolph College.
aecoulter49@gmail.com 1-434-845-7455