OUR NEXT PROGRAMS – COMING: THREE SPECIAL EVENTS

WORKSHOP: BUILDING PARISH MUSIC PROGRAMS

presented by Marti Rideout on Saturday, April 13, 10:00 am workshop, 9:30 am refreshments

Monday, April 15, 7:00 pm workshop, 6:30 pm refreshments

St. Mark's Episcopal Church, 2151 Dorset Rd. (Upper Arlington)

Lo, the winter is past and Holy Week and Easter Day services and music-making are over. A state of exhaustion may still exist for you. The choirs may be prematurely losing their energy and looking forward to summer. Most likely, though, you are already beginning to think about summer conferences to attend, next season's schedule to plan, repertoire to discover and learn, and ideas for change and growth for your choirs and for you in your music ministry.

Workshop topics will include the practical issues of choir building (increasing the size of the choir and music skills), teaching new music to the congregation, awareness of sacred music (with congregation, clergy, and community), music and worship planning, working with children and young people, and challenges in church music today. Come and be energized.

We hope you will be present to affirm the great importance of these two causes.

Dean's Message

Many thanks are due to Brian Johnson and his team of helpers at Broad Street United Methodist Church for hosting the informative and entertaining Saturday workshop and Sunday recital by Andrew Kotylo the weekend of March 9/10. The handsome church and colorful organ provided a wonderful venue for Mr. Kotylo's superb playing and the lavish reception provided by the church ended an especially engaging pair of programs.

A busy month of guild activities lies ahead. With her vast resources of knowledge and experience in the field of church music, Marti Rideout's workshop at St. Mark's Episcopal Church will offer insights and suggestions applicable to all parish music programs. As with all the workshops in this current 2012/13 season, this workshop will be held twice to permit the widest possible participation: Saturday morning, April 13 at 10:11 am and Monday evening, April 15 at 7:00 pm. Refreshments will be available one half-hour preceding each program. Please read about Marti's presentation in her own words on page 1.

North Broadway United Methodist Church will be the scene of our Benefit Student Recital on Sunday afternoon, April 21 at 3:00 pm. Please note the details as found on page 1 of this issue.

Page 2 of this issue includes Al Adcock's message with details of our annual Spring Social on Monday evening, May 6 at The Brennan Loft, featuring jazz organist and composer Joe Utterback. The spring gatherings provide a wonderful opportunity to mingle with colleagues and enjoy a relaxing evening of good food and entertainment.

And finally, please be sure to return the ballot that will accompany your invitation to our May 6 gathering. (You may also bring your ballot with you that evening.) The nomination committee, Judy Willour, Tom Gerke and Scott Hayes, chaired by Sara Seidel, has come up with a fine slate of candidates. We thank them for their good work on our behalf.
