NEWSLETTER OF THE COLUMBUS CHAPTER

DEAN'S CORNER

Judging from the catalogs arriving from music publishers, there is no shortage of printed material aimed at celebrating Christmas. Have you ever wondered how many of the musicals arriving as "samples" are actually performed in real life? Anyway, how much space should I really devote in my filing cabinet to music which is sung on one evening, or maybe for a very small assembly on Christmas Day? In addition, celebrations of Christmas on the actual Sundays of Christmas may be characteristically subdued, a by-product of choir breaks, family vacations, and general Christmas burn-out. Is this the sum total of Christendom's celebration of the Incarnation of Jesus?

Looking deeper, the traditional Advent-Christmas-Epiphany cycle of the Incarnation arrives for a substantial amount of time, and the themes from scripture move at a fairly quick clip through this cycle. Where are the music catalogs brimming with Advent themes of justice, end times, repentance, the Annunciation? What about music for Epiphany to explain what happens after the visitors from the East have departed? How do we serve our congregations (or audiences) who need more than nice Christmasy feelings: who have holiday overload and are facing seasonal darkness and coldness with slim wallets, some extra pounds, and those dreaded New Years' resolutions? Do we organists need more or different kinds of music? Where can we find resources to help?

Perhaps we can share our ideas and experiences together. I hope you will be able to join us for the November program, "Music for Advent, Christmas, and Epiphany," featuring the new pipe organ at All Saints Lutheran Church in Worthington (Monday, November 5th at 7:30pm). Built by Kegg Pipe Organ Builders (Hartville, OH), the organ has 2 manuals, 26 ranks, and includes preparations for the addition of a future choir division. Featured performers include chapter members Tom Gerke (who has served as All Saints' organist for more than 30 years!), Anne Saylor, Elizabeth Krouse, Linda Nolan, Bob Wisniewski, Dorothy Riley and Julia Parker. The organ builder will be present.

In other news, Chad Baker has graciously stepped up to coordinate placements and substitutes for the chapter. We appreciate Chad's contribution last summer to the Young Organists' Symposium, a part of the AGO Discovers Columbus Region V Convention.

Finally, I would like to extend a thank-you to Brad Hall for serving on the Executive Committee. Brad has moved out-of-state to start a new position, and we sadly accept his resignation from the committee. We welcome Stephen Jacoby, who will serve the remainder of Brad's term. Please join with me in welcoming Steve and wishing Brad well in his new endeavor.

I look forward to seeing you soon.

With warm regards,

Membership Notes From Sally - Continued

Please make the following corrections to your directories:

1. Hilde Hildebrandt is available to substitute on Sundays
2. The organ at Holy Family on page 44 of your directory is a Schantz, 26 ranks.
3. An interesting note (I wonder how many years we have carried over this mistake) on the Past Deans listings, the Dean of the Guild for 1967-68 was Msgr. F. Thomas Gallen and not Thomas F. Gallen as we have listed.

Please notify your local chapter (Sally Beske at sbeske@columbus.rr.com) and the national organization with address changes. The contact information for AGO National is listed on page 9 of your directory. Remember that your subscription to The American Organist runs from January to January. If you have not renewed this past spring or summer your subscription will soon expire. Renewal forms are available on line at AGOColumbus.org. The check that you send to Sally Beske with your membership renewal form is sent on to Al Adcock, chapter treasurer. Contact Al or Sally if you have questions about your membership status.

All the chapter officers, Tim Wilson our newsletter editor, Treasurer Al Adcock and Sally Beske are volunteers that have donated many hours toward our local chapter. Paid staff with the AGO is only on the National level. On behalf of the 212 members and friends of AGO Columbus we thank these local volunteers for their commitment and dedication toward the health and stability of our chapter.
