DEAN'S LIST for NOVEMBER

- Invite a friend/colleague to the November Benefit Concert
- Listen to a recording of the new prelude/postlude you are learning for Advent/Christmas OR
- Set a time to play the music for a colleague on the instrument at his/her church, then use the comments as incentive to perfect the selection
- Attend a program that features music for the organ
- Mark February 8 on your calendar, the first AGO program for 2010!!
- Take a few minutes during the holidays to make a list of those students ages 11-16 who may be interested in getting to know the King of Instruments

November Program

“Pipes of Plenty”

*A concert to benefit the Mid-Ohio Food Bank
Sponsored by the Columbus Chapter of the American Guild of Organists*

Monday, November 9, 2009, 7:30 p.m.

Trinity United Methodist Church, Marble Cliff
1581 Cambridge Boulevard

The public is cordially invited to “Pipes of Plenty”, a fun organ concert featuring entertaining ‘encore’ pieces, Bach’s Greatest Hits, and patriotic music. Performers are G. Dene Barnard, James Bobb, Josh Brodbeck and Jan Linker. Proceeds from a free-will offering and donations of canned goods will benefit the Mid-Ohio Food Bank. A brief, pre-concert explanation of the Trinity organ’s new digital choir division will be given by Peebles-Herzog.

We hope to see you there!

Monday, February 8 - 7:30 p.m.

Acoustics, Architecture and Art (You are encouraged to invite your clergy and choir director)

St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, 1450 East Dublin-Granville Road

Musicians making music wonder "How does it sound?" (Acoustics); Does the space where we worship have architectural beauty? (Architecture); What silent reminders of faith are in our worship spaces? (Paraments - Art).

Explore the answers to these questions as we sing, listen to great music, and experience the beauty of liturgical art.
